"Women and Children First," Is the Cry When the Lusitania Lists Under the Impact of Emperor Wilhelm's Torpedoes. More Than One Thousand Men, Women and Children Are Sucked Down in Vortex as Queenly Vessel Receives Its Death Blow. Berlin Hails Awful Tragedy as a Triumph of the German Policy. London Is Appalled by the Disaster. An Extra Session of Congress May Be Called, which Has but one Meaning.

LONDON, May 8 .- Fifteen hundred lost their lives, the British admiralty estimates, when the Lusitania was torpedoed off the Irish const. Known survivors number only 658, while there were 2160 souls aboard the great liner when it was attacked. Nearly six hundred survivors were landed at Queenstown, and some others at Kinsale. The work of compiling the list of survivors is progressing slowly, because of the confusion at Queenstown. The United States consul at Queenstown has accounted for but 51 Americans out of Vanderbilt, Charles Frohman, Elbert Hubbard, Justus Miles Forman, the actor, or Charles Klein, the playwright.
